REV. CHRIS HILLIARD

Pastor Chris & wife Elisabeth

What a tremendous Easter Sunday we had at First Baptist. I heard from many who invited others to come and who had guest with them that day. I trust many seeds of the gospel were planted. Now, we must continue The Big Invite by making it a lifestyle we live. Each week, each day the people you meet are in need of Jesus Christ. As His disciple and messenger, share the hope of Jesus in all you do. This community yearns for authentic Christians who care about them and welcome them no matter their skin color, economic status, background, imperfections, etc.

After the resurrection of Jesus, the New Testament church had its beginnings and the great commission became her calling. She grew and spread quickly because of the Holy Spirit's guidance and power in the life of the church. We have that same Holy Spirit in us today. So, let's go forward growing the Kingdom of God one person at a time!

For a great resource (and app) on how to share the gospel, be sure to check out the following link. Some free training videos are on the site.

YOUTH NEWS:

steve @bemiss.com

Youth Minister Steve & wife Tami

It's Easter morning and I'm sitting here watching two of my favorite animals, G and Ness. G's a male goose and Ness is his wife, they come every year to the Ponderosa to nest. Ness is one of the best mom's ever. She sits day and night on her eggs while G stands guard. They always nest in the same spot, on the very end of the Isthmus that stretches out in the middle of the pond. G stands guard at the entrance of the Isthmus making sure nothing comes and attacks his bride. Tami and I watch them every year as they give 100% to this process. It's about this time of year when we start seeing other geese with their little goslings and yet nothing will change for our two beautiful birds! As I watch G and Ness this morning I can tell they're starting to get anxious. They'll keep giving it a hundred percent until they face the inevitable and go back and join the other geese without any babies of their own. I'll eventually throw the eggs in the pond, as I have for the last few years, and we will wait to see G and Ness again next spring when they'll come back with the same dedication to the process as they've always had!

Just writing this story makes me feel ashamed! How many times do we give a half hearted effort to ministry because the results are not what we desire? Sometimes it's pure defiance because you don't like the leadership or it's not you that will get the accolades. It's times like this when the human side takes over and we start blaming others or give up on the work we were doing. We need to get our mind off the big picture and focus more on the task at hand. It is our job to give a hundred percent at what we are called to do, God will handle the results! When you start feeling a little down because your ministry is not growing like you thought, or the numbers in the big service have dropped down from where it use to be, remember the lines to an old song. Jesus gave it all, all to him I owe!. I am challenged by the effort of G and Ness, even though the results sometimes are far from what we desire, it is our job to turn to our Lord and savior and give 100%, and know in our hearts that He will be eternally grateful!

All things in Christ!
Steve Shierling

WORSHIP MATTERS:

Minister of Music John & wife Jeanette

"Christ the Lord is Risen Today"
Words and Music by Charles Wesley

What a glorious truth to ponder—Jesus is not the “Great I Was” but rather the “Great I Am!” He is not only a historical fact but a present-day, living reality. The whole system of Christianity rests upon the truth that Jesus Christ rose from the grave and is now seated at the Father’s right hand as our personal advocate. If all of our eternity is to be realized on this side of the grave, we are hopeless and to be pitied. But for the Christian, the resurrection assures us of God’s tomorrow. See you in worship,

John

Breathtakingly Beautiful!!
 God showed up and showed out with this year's gorgeous Easter Cross!
 Thank you so much to those that came to help with the cross this year. The weather was perfect, the workers were plenty and the spirit was awesome. We all know the cross Jesus died on was far from beautiful. We strive to make this cross beautiful simply to stand as a symbol to glorify our risen Savior, Jesus Christ. If you missed out on helping this year we invite you to go ahead and mark your 2018 calendars for the Thursday (March 29th) prior to next Easter Sunday, April 1, 2018.
