I didn't realize that being retired meant being TIRED again! It seems like I have a "to-do" list that has been building up for 30 years! Why didn't I notice all these things that needed to be done before I retired? I think I knew about most of the things that needed to be done but my focus was just elsewhere. Now that my focus has come back to those things that I need to be doing, it's time for me to get busy and start getting at least some of those things accomplished!

With our senior pastor leaving this past Sunday, I have been looking at all the holes it will leave. There will be so many opportunities for us to serve! It's not that these opportunities were not always there; it's just easy to have our focus elsewhere when someone else is taking care of it! So let's all pull together, get busy, and get the will of God accomplished for Quitman First Baptist Church!

All things in Christ!
Steve Shierling

All In All

Paul wrote to the Colossians not only about the supremacy of God, but also the impact His supremacy has on our identities. His power over sin and darkness gives us freedom to stop covering up our blemishes. We don't have to hold all things together, because the Creator of the universe has already done that for us. Today, let's love the world around us, not by hiding our failures, but by pointing to the grace in the midst of them.

Looking forward to worshipping with you,
John

*If you, or someone you know, play(s) the drums, please see John.
