After visiting with some friends, I was leaving the hospital and couldn't help but notice all the different departments. There was an Emergency Room, an Outpatient Treatment Area, a Cardiac Care Unit, a Physical Therapy wing, and just about anything imaginable for all that ails you. It was just a one-stop-shop for the sick and hurting. That, my friends, is exactly what the church should be for those in spiritual need. No matter what someone is struggling with, they should be able to find a cure for their ailment when they visit the house of the Lord.

What about our particular body of believers, are we prepared to treat a spiritual emergency? Do we provide Cardiac Care (some may need a spiritual heart transplant) can we offer spiritual therapy?

It's time we look at all the things that we provide and see if they're meeting the needs of our community. Shouldn't the church be a one-stop-shop for your spiritual needs?

All things in Christ!
Steve Shierling

Important date change: The Easter Egg Hunt will take place Friday March 30, from 5:00-6:30. We are now collecting plastic eggs and wrapped candy. There is a basket at the children's bulletin board in the back hallway to place items in. Thank you for helping out with this part of the children's ministry.

Barbara Waldron

The mission trip will be March 31-April 7. Those going at this time are Barbara Waldron, Scott Hockenbury and Julie Wingate. If anyone else would like to go, we may be able to still purchase a ticket this week. The trip has the potential to not be as tough as usual since we will be flying over the Andes in 40 minutes, instead of ground transportation for 8 - 9 hours. We will be working on the park we are building in the area called "Los Jardines" (The Gardens) near Santa Domingo. You have the opportunity to help with the park by donating funds to "Peru Missions". We need funds to put up a fence around the park (to keep the animals out), playground equipment, benches and picnic tables and complete the pavilion and bathrooms. This will provide a fun, safe place for the children in the area to play and also gives us a place to hold Bible school and other activities.

In HIS Service,
 Barbara Waldron
