Game Day is here! Show up with your favorite team colors on February 5th! Also, starting this past week, you can tune in to 99.1 FM and hear First Baptist on the radio. We will be on Brooks County's new radio station weekdays at 2 pm (following the Gaither hour, I'm told) and 11 a.m. on Sundays. The weekly slot will be a fifteen-minute segment featuring a portion of my sermons. Sundays will be a full hour broadcast of our worship service from the week before. Support your local station and tune in!

February 13th is the annual Community Unity Service. It will be at 7 p.m. and the location has changed this year to the Presbyterian Church behind the courthouse. Rev. Bertrum Whitfield will bring the message. This is a great annual worship experience where the community comes together as one to lift up Jesus.

At First Baptist, we are getting ready for our Spring Homecoming and Revival in March. Evangelist Steve Hale will be with us. Stay tuned for more information and for "The Big Invite"!

Blessings,
Pastor Chris

Sing God's Word

Minister of Music John & wife Jeanette

What Kind of Music?

God wants us to worship Him with music, but he hasn't given us as many details as we'd often like to know. Scripture doesn't come with a soundtrack. So we are not sure what music from the Bible times sound like.

Some of the questions Scriptures doesn't address include: How much music is too much? Should songs be passed down through the years, or should each generation write its own?

I look forward to worshipping with you Sunday,
John

Mission News:

When a disaster hits, everyone wants to help. Praise the Lord we possess that compassion to serve others. The recent storms devastated many families in our immediate area. This is the information I have been able to get together. I believe in the disaster relief efforts of Ga. Baptist, however in order to help with food services, clean up and recovery or chaplaincy you must have first received the training. That does not mean you can't give. Right now Ga. Baptist Disaster Relief is collecting monetary donations for those affected by the storm. They say the local county officials have asked that they postpone clean-up efforts for now, and that when tangible items are needed they will update their website with the information (www.missiongeorgia.org) and facebook page. There are several other places accepting donations, just keep in mind when you give, this is not a time to clean out your closet, don't just take items you no longer want or need, because chances are if you don't want them neither does someone else. Take items that are either new, or slightly used and clean.

The Ga. National Fairgrounds in Perry are accepting essential items including bottled water, non- perishable food, new personal hygiene items, and good clean clothes. Drop off times-8-6, Tues- Sun. call before you go - 478-988-6483.

The Tift County Sheriff's office has been collecting bottled water - call for more info. and what is needed - 229-388-6020.

Albany City Commissioner, B.J. Fletcher, is coordinating efforts in Albany- call - 229-854-9443.

If you know someone personally affected by the storm that we can help please let me know and we will certainly do what we can to assist them.

Needs are constantly changing, so please call before you collect and take items.

We returned home from the mission trip on Sunday and are glad to be home. We arrived after the storm had passed over. However we left Peru right before the worst part of the storms there hit. They are experiencing massive mudslides, rock slides and flooding in areas we were in a few days ago. Please be in prayer for the people there.

We will be sharing about the mission trip on Feb. 26th. Thanks for all the prayers while we were gone, we knew you were praying, because we saw God's intervention and protection.

In HIS Service,
 Barbara Waldron

If you wish to provide an arrangement for the sanctuary anytime during 2017 please choose an available "Sunday's" date on the Flower Calendar located beside the nursery.

If you normally provide flowers 'annually' for an occasion (ex. In Loving Memory or In Honor), an attempt has been made to reserve 'your annual date'. To try and help avoid confusion, please check to make sure your date(s), or the Sunday(s) as close as possible to the date of your special occasion, has been properly reserved.

Thanks,

Phyllis Hubert, Church Decoration Committee
