YOUTH & EDUCATION NEWS:

Rev. Nick Hampton

Who are you serving for? We all have serving opportunities before us every single day. Serving most of the time isn't the problem, the problem is who are we serving for. We are usually eager to help someone in need or serve at some event going on at church, but why? I have served alongside people who are only serving for recognition or to add another notch in their serving belt. When I think about serving I think about who is watching me serve. Not just the people around me but my Savior. When we forget about the recognition and the accolades that come from some types of serving it begins to go farther and mean more to the people we are serving. Serve for Jesus. It's the greatest thing you will ever do.

Called to serve Him,
Rev. Nick Hampton

MISSION NEWS

If you are interested in going to Peru in August, please contact Barbara Waldron as soon as possible. We need to set dates soon to ensure our translator will be able to go with us.

We are collecting lotions and ointments for arthritis and sore muscles for a nursing home, also baby items and clothes for a group of teenage boys at an orphanage.

In HIS service,
Barbara Waldron

22 kids and 6 adults enjoyed an end of the year party to Ci-Ci's Pizza. Sunday the older girls will be going to Legacy Outdoor Ministry camp. We will leave right after the morning worship service so girls need to bring their bags with them to church. Be sure to double check your packing list so you have everything you need. Girls age 10-up, will have a great experience in God's Amazing outdoors, with activities including Archery, shooting safety and shooting skills with .22's and shotguns, fresh water and shark fishing, boating with canoes and kayaks, one night camp out, wildlife management lessons, compassing, Bible studies built on God's creation and much more! The desire of Legacy staff is to instill a love of the shooting sports and outdoor recreation that will last a lifetime! Most of all, their desire is to lead campers into a lifelong relationship with the God of creation through His Son, Jesus Christ. Campers are challenged to approach the outdoor life with a Biblical world view.

The boys will attend Legacy camp June 17-21.

In HIS Service,
Barbara Waldron
